

Life/Work Shield

Without your people, where would your business be?

For employers, attracting, retaining, and growing human resources is hard. The 'Great Resignation' and a post Covid world, has seen many businesses collapse. If Collective Enterprise Bargaining becomes the new norm, a new layer of complexity and costs will bring a new enterprise dilemma.

For employees, rapid inflation, wage growth, economic uncertainty, RBA forcing mortgage cost increases and the cost-of-living spiraling out of control, employees are looking elsewhere for better pay and conditions because,

- Wage increases are not enough
- Other employers are offering more
- Have never been more exposed to the loss of the family home, possessions, health, and wellbeing.

What will you do before it's too late and your best resource has resigned?
